Anniversary Services

Grace Church Crowded on Sunday to Hear Prof. Riddell—Splendid Entertainment.

The first anniversary services of Grace Methodist Church were held on Sunday last.

In the evening Prof. Riddell, of Alberta College, Edmonton, occupied the pulpit. There was scarcely a vacant seat in the large church when the Rev. gentleman arose. The choir was out in full force and during the evening rendered several songs in an excellent manner.

Dr. Riddell took his text from the gospel of St. John, where Jesus is talking about the Good Shepherd and makes the statement that "I am come that they might have life."

"This," said the preacher, "is the bold statement of a young man about 30 years of age. Many great philosophers before him have taught great things, but none of them had dared to make such a bold and unique statement as that uttered by Jesus."

"Are these words true? Did the after history of the world prove the truth of this prophesy uttered over 1900 years ago?"

This apparently presumptuous statement of Jesus as he talked to his disciples? Ask the great apostle to the Gentiles. Ask him who had such a marvellous conversion on the way to Damascus, who endured such affliction for the principal taught by Jesus, for the cross of Christ, to prove the truth of the statement found in my text. Ask Martin Luther, who declared he would go to the Diet of Worms, though the world were opposed to him, because he believed in Jesus as the one who came to give life. Ask John Wesley, whose real kindled a flame throughout Great Britain as he proclaimed the glad news that "He that hath the Son hath life, and he that hath not the Son hath not life."

This statement is true, and may be verified by thousands from that day to this; and is borne witness to by thousands in the world to-day. The great questions for each one to answer is "Are they true in my life?" The speaker continued to explain what this life meant. He said it involved two things which must not be separated: First—An experience. Second—an endeavor, or other words character and conduct. Character the indwelling of the spirit of Jesus in the individual and conduct the manifestation of that character in outward acts.

Prof. Riddell was listened to throughout the service with great attention by those present. His visit will no doubt be of service in the efforts of the church people to "Spread the Story of the Gospel."

On Monday evening a splendid programme and supper was given in the church by the Ladies' Aid of the congregation. A large number sat down to the splendid repast served by the ladies and all did full justice to the many good things provided. It was a very pleasant sit down at the beautifully laden tables and have a boy of pretty young ladies waiting on one and doing their best to see that the wants of the inner man were fully satisfied. Congratulations are due to those responsible for the request for the splendid manner in which all the thousand and one details necessarily connected with such an entertainment were handled.

The First Fire

Fire Brigade Called Out to Fight Flames in Palace Pool Room—Last Night

About 5.30 last night the fire brigade was called out to a fire in the Palace Pool Room, which originated from one of the gasoline lights. The fire boys answered the alarm in a fine manner, and in less than a minute had the chemical in a position to fight the flames.

Fortunately the flames did not have much of a start, and they were subdued with one of the hand chemicals.

The citizens who were present expressed gratification at the fire, in which the brigade handled the fire and answered the alarm.

The damage done to the building was very slight.

For Sale—One Air-Tight heater, also one coal and wood burner. Both stoves are in first class condition. Apply at this office for particulars.

The surveyors are now busy surveying the new sub-division which will be placed on the market by the Wainwright Realty Co. as soon as completed. There will be 1400 lots in the sub-division.

Owing to some delay in the arrival of a shipment of news print from the past we ran short of white paper this week and as a consequence we had to fall back on some colored stock. We expect to have a sufficient supply on hand next week to be able to turn out the paper in the natural color.

Arthur Elbourne, who owned the first store in the town of Wainwright, and who later removed to Vancouver, was renewing acquaintances in town today. Mr. Elbourne has been at the front for the past few months, and is anything but favorably impressed with the country through which the line of the G.T.P. passes west of Edmonton.

Senator Milvin Jones, president and managing director of the Massey Harris Company, Geo. Vahetke of Toronto, C. H. Whitaker of Winnipeg, Geo. Forsythe of Regina, H. Asford of Saskatoon, and W. G. Hunt of Calgary, all Massey Harris representatives at the respective points, were in town this week, and in company with P. Duvier, the local agent, looked over the situation here. It has been the custom of the Senator for several years to make a trip with his deputies through the west where a great deal of the business of the Massey Harris Co. is done.

ed, every thing going off without a hitch of any kind.

Immediately after the supper a splendid programme was rendered by local talent and everyone enjoyed the many fine selection rendered by those who took part in the programme. One of the most enjoyable items was a duet by Miss Anderson and Roy Readman, which received a hearty encore, the voices of the young people blending perfectly. Mrs. Lush rendered a couple of songs in an able manner and Wainwright has gained a decidedly sweet singer in this lady. Mr. King's songs were well received by the audience who demanded several encores. Taken all through, the entertainment was a decided success and the ladies of the church and those who so kindly assisted them, deserve every praise for the splendid entertainment afforded. The receipts of the evening will total nearly $100.

The Local News of the Week

Good pieces were realized at the auction sale held at T. Banting's on Tuesday.

Walter B. Nellis has succeeded in locating his scrip on a fine piece of land near town.

There will be a celebration of the Holy Eucharist for Communists in the Church of England on Sunday, Nov. 24, immediately after the morning service. Rev. G. N. Finn, M.A. will conduct the service.

The firemen are making every preparation for their annual masquerade ball to be held on the evening of November 12, next. Splendid prizes will be given for the best costumes. A special orchestra has been engaged for the event.

We are in receipt of a letter from Jas. R. Lowry, who opposed A. Branley Moore, M.P. in the last election. Mr. Lowry is now taking an Arts course at Toronto University. He expects to return to Kitchener in the spring.

The G. T. P. R. has recently had executed a large painting in oils, depicting Mount Robson in the Rocky Mountains. It has been exhibited in Montreal and Toronto, and will be sent to London, Eng., for display in the G. T. P. offices there.

Dr. McQueen, dentist, of Wainwright, has been in the city this week attending to business matters and making preparations to ship his household effects to his new home in the G. T. P. division town. Doctor reports business conditions good in Wainwright—Strathcona Plaindealer.

H. V. Fieldhouse has received a letter from Helden, a village on the G. T. P. a number of miles west of here, asking for information about the cement works. The place is well pleased with the idea of cement works and will follow Wainwright's example in building nothing else.

The secretary of the hockey club has received a letter from R. H. Dobson, of the Alberta Amateur Hockey Association, in which Wainwright is requested to send delegates to attend the annual meeting of the association to be held in Red Deer on Nov. 20, for the purpose of electing officers for the coming year and transacting other business.

The implement business heretofore carried on by H. Y. Pawling under the firm name of Harpell & Pawling will, in future be known by the title H. Y. Pawling. Mr. Harpell will still retain his position as traveling salesman. See change of advertisement on another page. Mr. Pawling will remove his office into the new block on Main street just as soon as the building is sufficiently advanced to accommodate him.

A brass band will be organized in Irma shortly.

The K. P. lodge held a very pleasant banquet in the lodge room on Tuesday evening.

The average daily attendance at the Seattle fair was 26,000. It was a financial success.

The Irma baseball club held a very successful masquerade ball and turkey shoot on Monday.

Remember the dance to be given in the Auditorium Opera House on Wednesday evening by the management.

L. McCluskey left this week on a holiday trip to his former home in Ontario. He will be absent several weeks.

Pawling & Wells have completed the drainage canal through the hay coral and the big ditch has been accepted by the government.

The B. C. elections will be held on November 28. From this distance it looks as though Premier McBride would be returned by a large majority.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Williams, who have been visiting friends and relatives in Oklahoma for the past couple of months, returned home on Saturday evening last.

Several of the employees of the G.T.P. who have been working on this end of the line for the past few months have already left. The rest, who they will spend the next few months.

During the last two weeks mail order houses have been sending out their fall catalogues, and we would remind our readers again to support their home town and patronize local merchants, who provide, to a large extent, a market for your farm produce.

Thursday of last week was Trafalgar Day, when throughout the British Empire it is customary to particularly honor the memory of Admiral Nelson. It is the custom to place flowers on his monument in London, England, and in other cities where there are tablets erected to his memory.

Thanksgiving Day was observed by the townspeople in many ways. Several hunting parties were scattered throughout the district and some good bags were secured. All the business places were closed.

More Buffalo Arrive

Seventy-five Head From Banff Park Have Been Placed in Big Enclosure Here

Seventy-five more buffalo have been added to the large herd already in the monster park here. A special train of six cars arrived this morning and were at once unloaded at the park. The animals with one or two exceptions were in fine condition after their journey.

Superintendent Ed. Ellis, of the Buffalo Park here, accompanied the shipment and superintended both the loading and unloading of the buffalo. The buffalo were unloaded at the park chute and when once out of the cars, they lost no time in rushing down the long chute to their future home.

With this herd there will be considerably over 600 buffalo in the park, by far the largest herd in the world.

The Park officials have made every preparation to look after the welfare of the monster animals this winter close onto two thousand tons of hay having been put up.

Theodore Smith, who lives about two miles east of town, had a wonderful yield of grain this season. They will all have to go some to bent the averages in the Wainwright district this year.

Mrs. G. Elliot, who resides near Irma, met with a painful accident on Friday last. She had been in town and while returning home was thrown from the buggy and suffered a dislocation of the left shoulder and a fracture of the right arm just below the shoulder joint. Dr. McGregor, of Irma, and Dr. Watson, of Wainwright, were called and the injured arm was soon fixed up. Mrs. Elliot is over sixty years of age and the accident is therefore the more to be regretted. At last reports, however, she was doing nicely.

Edmund T. Holmes, the Canadian Government Agent at St. Paul, Minnesota, was a visitor to the town and district last week. Mr. Holmes was making a trip through the districts along the line of the G. T. P. in order to become familiar with the conditions and was most enthusiastic over the "Wainwright country." He expects a large increased immigration from the States during the coming year, a considerable proportion of which will be to points along the G. T. P. He advised the Board of Trade to issue some descriptive literature about this section for distribution in States. He left for Edmonton the latter part of the week.

Changes in Alberta Cabinet

Hon. Findlay Resigns and Several Appointments Made—Newspapermen Are Honored

By the official enactment of the Lieutenant Governor in Council last week, a change in the cabinet representation of the province was made, which will doubtless prove of much interest to the Alberta elector.

Owing to continued ill health the Hon. W. P. Finlay, M.P. for Medicine Hat, who has been minister of agriculture since the inauguration of the Alberta government, has handed in his resignation to the Premier and Danahy Marshall, M.P. for Olds, will be called to accept a position in the cabinet as Minister of Agriculture and Provincial Secretary.

Other cabinet appointments which will be made, provide for the elevation of two legislative members to be ministers without portfolio. These members are W. A. Buchanan, M.P. for Lethbridge, and P. T. Lessard, M.P. for Pakenia.

It is understood that at the next session of the Legislative Assembly legislation will be passed creating a portfolio for Mr. Buchanan. What this will be has not been announced by Premier Rutherford.

His Majesty the King has been pleased to institute a medal, styled "The King's Police Medal," to be awarded to members of the constabulary forces and fire brigades throughout His Majesty's dominions and territories under his protection or jurisdiction, in recognition of special and exceptional service, heroism, or devotion to duty. Full particulars respecting the institution of the medal are published in the last issue of the Alberta Gazette.

Some time since THE STAR in reporting the sale of a gasoline traction threshing outfit to P. G. Pawsey, stated that the sale had been made by the Fradcock Trading Company, sub agents for Harpell & Pawling. Our attention has been drawn to the fact that the Fradcock Co. are not sub agents at all, but are direct local agents for the International Harvester Company. THE STAR regrets the wrong inference contained in the article and hastens to publish this in justice to Fradcock Trading Co.

One of the finest pieces of descriptive writing we have seen in some time appeared in Collier's Canadian edition of October 18. The article which occupied considerable space, gave a detailed account of the escape of the buffalo from the park here, and described the manner in which they at one fell swoop for the north. The article winds up with the statement that never again would any government attempt to corral and hold these animals. The most amusing part of the story lies in the fact that the buffalo have not escaped and have never made the least effort to get away from the park here.

The report which emanated from Edmonton and which appeared in a Winnipeg paper recently to the effect that our agents had been withdrawn from Wainwright is entirely false. The statement was issued from official headquarters of the G. T. P. in Winnipeg. The purpose of the report, which is not truth, cannot be conjectured by the company.

How Buffalo Escaped

In Collier's Weekly

Western Press Roast Well Known Weekly For Publishing Story of Buffalo Stampede in Which There is No Truth

Below we publish a number of extracts from Western papers about the article published in Collier's Canadian Weekly recently giving a detailed story of the escape of the buffalo from the park here.

"Collier's" is the name of a United States weekly publication which honors the Dominion with publishing what they call a "Canadian edition." The justification of the title usually consists in the insertion of a page of editorials, excellently written, by a well known Canadian journalist, dealing with matters of interest to Canadians. In a recent issue, however, the author has accepted as correct a despatch emanating from Calgary and announcing the destruction of the fences about the buffalo park, and the escape of the inmates. He recounted the supposed calamity in the following way: "The Canadian National Buffalo Park at Wainwright was destroyed by a prairie fire which raged throughout the last week in October. The fences and enclosures which marked the limits of the preserve were burned from around their capes and 800 escaped. A large number of the elk also fled with the buffalo and many of the animals were killed. Driven northward from the flames, the advance became a stampede and they dashed away with impetus of frenzy. The possibility of rounding them up once more appears remote, and even if this could be done, there would be enormous difficulty in holding them together until a new corral could be built. The damage wrought by the fires to the entire region in which the corral was situated will mount into the millions." To this graphic description of a national calamity, there is only one objection. It had no foundation in fact. The fences of the park were not destroyed and the Bison did not escape and break for the northern wilds in irresistible stampede to be seen no more. At last reports they were living contentedly and waxing fat on the luxuriant grasses of the Wainwright park, any foolish desire for change effectively discouraged by a formidable fence, and only danger from prairie fire averted by a properly proportioned fire-guard. Nor will the damage wrought by fire in that or in all the districts of the province, be likely to reach the million mark or come measurably near it. The premises granted, the picture is well drawn, but is safer to mark one's imagination on a basis of assured fact.—Edmonton Bulletin.

Collier's Weekly, in its latest issue, tells a weird and lurid story about the destruction of the Canadian Buffalo, which it learns were destroyed in the latest prairie fire which visited that district.

And concerning the report there is absolutely no truth. It is all a fake. The fact that not a single post about the park was touched with fire, that not a single park post inside the fences, that not a single buffalo of any kind or description escaped, or saw a fire, indicates to what extent the truth has been tampered with.

It is unfortunate that a paper so widely read as Collier's would not secure the truth before publishing abroad such an outrageous untruth.—Calgary Albertan.

How does it happen that if there is a dirty half truth to throw at the West the Eastern newspapers are so anxious to throw it? The latest of the Wainwright ghost story about the buffalo park being destroyed by fire, which was published by Collier's—Calgary News.

Scholars In Alberta

Are Now Over Fifty Thousand School Children in Province—

Many New Districts

Alberta's school population will reach the 50,000 mark before the end of the year, which will be an increase of 10,000 since last year. This is the closest estimate which D. S. McKenzie, deputy minister of agriculture, can make before all the reports have been received from every school district, which will not be until well on towards the close of the year.

Thirty-six school districts have been organized by the provincial department of agriculture in the two months dating from August 1st. This is a record number, and will help to swell the total formed during the year to a considerable increase over the number formed last year, which was 168. In nearly every one of these new districts school houses have been erected and are accommodating a fairly large number of pupils.

Vol. II, Number I.

With its last issue THE STAR passed the first mile stone on its journey of life. One year ago on that date the paper was first published in this town, which is now one of the best in the province of Alberta. We have seen many changes in Wainwright since that date. It has nearly doubled in size and population. Fine business blocks have been erected on the different sites of the village, good cement sidewalks have been constructed on the main business streets of the town and the value of the place enhanced many fold. Real estate is selling at two or three times the original price and prosperity is abounding on all sides.

During the past year the STAR has endeavored to promote the best interests of the town at all times, and we believe our efforts in this respect have not been without some benefit to Wainwright and the surrounding district. We have taken an active part in all questions of public interest and possibly have hurt the feelings of some of our readers at different times, but we have endeavored to be fair at all times. Our policy has always been to promote the general welfare of this town and the district at large.

While our paper is not very large as yet, we hope in the near future to inaugurate many important changes in the appearance of the STAR, and ask for the hearty cooperation of our readers to this end.

In the line of advertising and subscriptions we have no complaint to make, as we believe we have received a fair proportion of the support of the business men and residents.

The Queen of Holland's new baby has cut a tooth—just the same as any ordinary baby. They all have to gum to it—Kingston Standard.

A very high compliment has been paid to members of the newspaper world in the province by the election of two of their members to responsible positions on the Alberta cabinet.

Never before have the people of Alberta had so many causes for thanksgiving as they have this year. Bountiful harvest, prosperous commercial conditions and the promise of still better things in the immediate future, all combine to make this province one of the most favored spots on the face of the earth. Furthermore, there is cause for thanksgiving to the elector.

of the civilization which is being built up in this part of Canada. Alberta is a sturdy, solid, upright community. And one eminently capable of carrying its future along good lines—Herald.

THE CROP REPORT

The crop report issued by the government shows not only a tremendous quantity of grain but a more than usual high quality. It is, of course, to be expected that each year should record an increase in the number of acres under cultivation and the gross yield taken from the soil. But this year the bounty of nature has more than seconded the attempts of human effort, and for that everybody will give thanks.

It is a great thing for the now farmer struggling with the difficulties of his situation when the season proves beneficent and fruitful, and such a year as has been experienced in the west must do much to increase the wealth and stability of the whole country.

The great harvest is also a most potent advertisement for the stimulation of immigration and investment. It adds most materially to the security offered by western Canada, and increases the love of the new soil by emphasizing its opportunities.

The crop report, however, also shows how rapidly Canada is becoming the granary of the empire. When the small percentage of the soil yet cultivated is contrasted with the total crop secured, even the most limited intelligence can appreciate what the future is going to be.—Winnipeg Telegraph.
